I have reviewed the following materials on these products:

1. Material specifications, test reports and data sheets.
2. Manufacture's Installation Instructions.
3. Manufacture's Application Bulletins
4. Representative samples of items.
5. Manufacture's Master Catalog

In my opinion the design of these products as shown in the manufacture's materials are based on sound engineering principles and the materials are compatible with all motor fuels and additives currently being used.
